

EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OIL PDO SITIA, CRETE

In the olive groves of Sitia, producers are evolving the art of olive oil making from generation to generation.

There, the blessed Cretan soil, the hot and dry climate, the traditional harvesting of olives of koroneiki cultivar and the high standards throughout all stages of production offer a fine, balanced olive oil with a rich aroma, a fruity flavour with a slightly peppery aftertaste and very low acidity.

It derives from olives that are picked by hand and processed with the method of cold extraction.

The extra virgin olive oil of Sitia has been certified by the European Union as a Protected Designation of Origin (PDO) product.

EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OIL PGI LAKONIA

The olive oil of the Spartan land comes from olive trees of two multi-awarded cultivars – the famous koroneiki and the rare Greek athinolia. The fruit of this marriage, following the application of traditional methods only, is this golden green olive juice characterized by a fruity flavour, a rich aroma, particularly low acidity and high polyphenol content. The olives are harvested by hand only and the olive oil is produced exclusively by applying the cold extraction method.

The extra virgin olive oil of Sparta has been certified by the European Union as a Protected Geographical Indication (PGI) product, thus proving its uniqueness.
